ingenico

AXIUM Payment Experience

Providing banks and acquirers a unified payment application

- AXIUM Payment Experience (APEX) provides functionality to meet the payment solution requirements across Retail, Restaurant, Hospitality and more.

- Both stand-alone and semi-integrated solutions are available to provide businesses with a payment system that uniquely suits their needs, meets stringent security requirements and offers an improved consumer experience.

- APEX is available in North America and provides a baseline of core payment requirements covering all integration and use cases, from cloud POS to on-device.

- The Axium platform includes a full range of payment devices and APIs for easy integration of value-adding applications.

- Built to provide a bridge from third party applications to Ingenico Payments Platform as a Service (PPaaS).
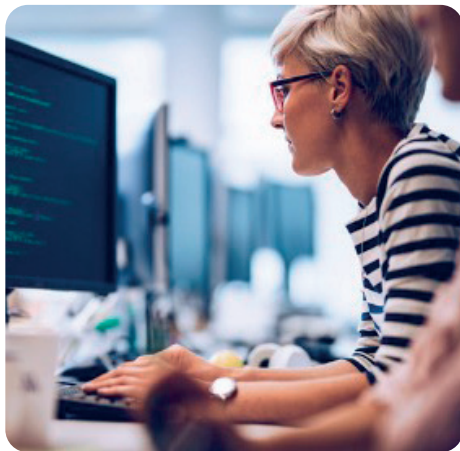

axium

Powered by Android, AXIUM Payment Experience is the payment solution that provides the best-in-class buying experience, while optimizing performance and security.

AXIUM Payment Experience (APEX)

APEX provides a baseline of functionality that meets 70% of common payment solution requirements across the region.

- APEX includes NUA (North America Unified API) which provides an easy connectivity and entry point to PPaaS and facilitates the porting of partner apps.
- APEX reduces development time and costs and allows for quick scalability of the solution.
- Simple customization options for unique requirements.
- Full integration with Ingenico Estate Manager enables the ability to schedule and remotely manage software upgrades, configuration changes, and custom merchant estates.
- Allows for the creation of software and licensing opportunities.

Payment applications

Our dedicated teams will support you as you develop new payment applications. Thanks to the modularity of Android, our global Android Competency Center, and expertise gained from developing thousands of payment applications over 4 decades, we can help you to achieve your technology ambitions quickly and safely.

- AXIUM offers you a comprehensive portfolio of payment and device-management applications.
- Thanks to the modularity of Android, our dedicated teams are on call to support you, as you develop the payment applications that match your business.

Business Enablement

With AXIUM, implementing business applications has never been easier.

- Give access to a large ecosystem of business apps.
- Dedicated APIs enable single integration with the payment world for all devices.
- Payment providers can create their own app stores and distribute them in just a few clicks, so you can select the ones you want on your terminals.

ingenico.com